LIBERAL GOVERNMENT GAINS STRENGTH FOLLOWING BUDGET DIVISION IN COMMONS TO-DAY

Vote Was 123 to 86; Way Now Clear for Ministry to Carry Out Programme of Legislation Mapped Out for Rest of Session; Premier Declared Readiness to Call for Dissolution if Opposition Should Persist in Obstructing Public Business.

By Times Staff Representative

Ottawa, May 1—The King government has the emphatic mandate of Parliament to carry on. Shattering the Progressive ranks beyond repair, the Liberal Party in the House of Commons overcame all opposition early this morning and swept through the last stages of the budget debate to a majority of thirty-seven.

The Government's margin, swelled by seventeen Progressive and three Independent votes, finally reached a total of 123 to 86, twice as large a majority as the most optimistic Liberals had expected. It leaves the Liberal administration in a splendid position to work out its programme for the present session and remain in office if it wishes for another year.

The Government's triumph and the Progressive disaster came just before 9 o'clock this morning, after a sitting which started yesterday afternoon, went on through the night and dragged wearily into the dawn as speakers after speaker quipped his way into the closing hours of the debate. The Government was determined to reach a vote before adjourning so the country's business, already delayed five weeks, might go on again in earnest. The Liberals determinedly waited for the end while members took turns at sitting in the House and sleeping in their offices.

The first division on the Conservative amendment was quickly rejected by 164 to 48, and then when Government's final victory was recorded pandemonium broke loose. Liberals cheered themselves hoarse, threw papers into the air and sang old-time songs.

The Progressive Party finds itself today in desperate straits. Abandoned on the crucial budget vote by twelve supporters from Ontario and five from the prairies and split also with thirteen members in the Glasgow Group, the former bloc will go into the next election a mere remnant of the powerful party which entered this Parliament.

TWO-PARTY SYSTEM
This morning's vote is taken as indicating more clearly than any other development since the last election that Canada is going back to the two-party system, with the Liberal Party constantly gaining strength.

The ballot followed speeches by Premier King and Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader. On a fighting motion of his administration Mr. King asked dissolution unless the Opposition obstruction of the last five weeks stopped. The vote came as a striking reply to his appeal for business instead of politics in Parliament.

SOLITUDE WAS HIS QUEST ON TIBET BORDER

H. R. Le Mogue-Barret Spent Year on Tibetan Frontier to Escape Civilization

Returned on Liner Niagara En Route to His Home in New Hampshire

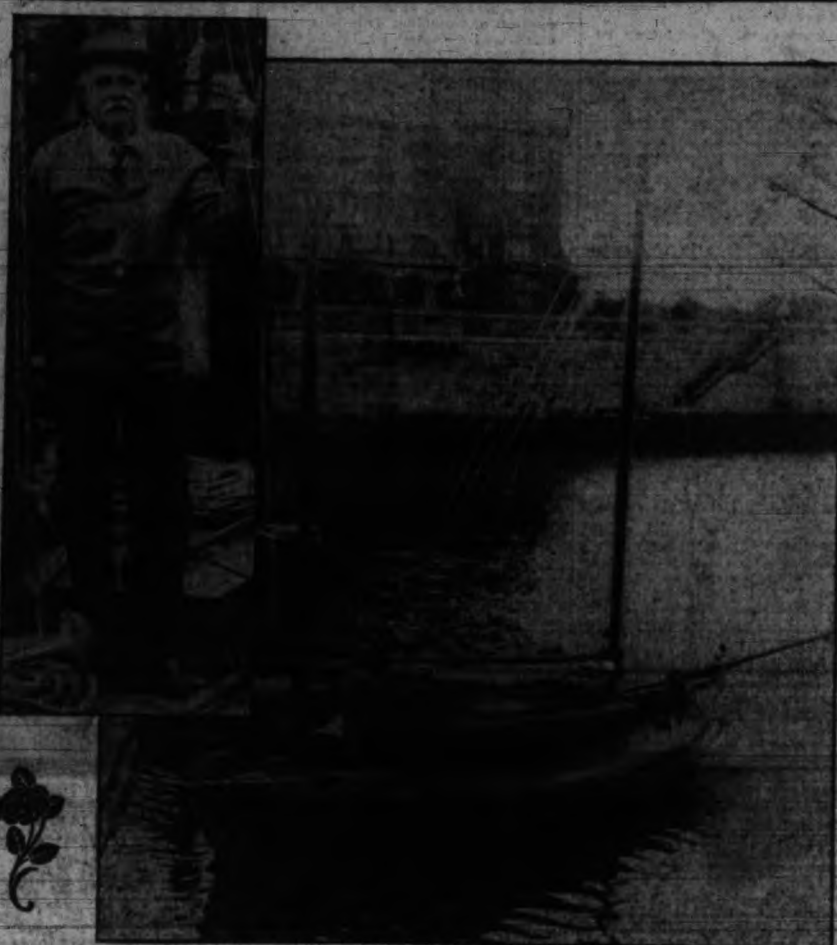

"I merely wanted to get away from civilization for awhile; to get away from automobiles and the rush and bustle of modern life," declared H. R. Le Mogue-Barret, of Cornish, New Hampshire, in explaining to a representative of The Times his year's sojourn on the Tibetan border.

"And I found the most isolated spot in the world and thoroughly enjoyed the experience," he added.

H. R. Le Mogue-Barret, accompanied by Mrs. Barrett and J. C. Weir, reached Victoria to-day on board the liner Niagara from Sydney, the party being en route home after one of the most unusual tours ever conceived.

LEAVES TO-MORROW ON LONELY CRUISE

Commander Eustace B. Maude, 77 years old, retired officer of the Royal Navy, will leave to-morrow in his diminutive 25-foot sloop for England. He expects to make the voyage in four months. "Let me get a good trade wind and I'll boom down to Panama in no time. After that I'll have a few weeks in the Atlantic, Biscay and finally the Channel. It should not take more than four months," he says.

Commander Maude is provisioning his small craft here. He arrived from Mayne Island yesterday about 1 o'clock. His plan is to be away from Victoria by Saturday afternoon, rain or shine.

MANY ARRESTS BY POLICE IN TOWNS OF ITALY

No General Outbreak on May Day Possible Because Officials on Alert

Rome, May 1.—May Day was reported to be tranquil throughout Italy as a result of mobilization of police and Fascist militia in all large cities and thorough precautions by the authorities everywhere to prevent possible attempts to violence.

Raid on communist headquarters and arrests of suspects continued throughout the country.

In some of the larger industrial centres a few workmen took a holiday, but started no disturbances, according to reports up to this afternoon.

In Rieti, fifteen persons who were holding a meeting at an inn and singing the "Red Flag," were arrested, and they were found to be armed.

WORKERS ARRESTED
In Florence, police searched the homes and headquarters of alleged Communists, arrested twenty-six railway workers and seized a number of inflammatory May Day manifestos.

The offices of the executive committee of a provincial communist federation were raided in Fiume, two persons were arrested and documents including a letter from the Communist International were seized.

In Milan, one of the strongholds of the opposition to Fascism, fifty persons were arrested and thousands of alleged seditious documents were seized.

EARTH SHOCKS IN CALIFORNIA AREA ALARMED PEOPLE

Riverside, Cal., May 1.—Sharp earth shocks were felt here about 1.30 a.m. to-day. Two distinct shocks were noted. They were severe enough to frighten patients in the county hospital, where doors sprang open and slammed shut and windows rattled furiously. No damage was reported.

VESSEL ASHORE AND CREW SAVED

Halifax, May 1.—The schooner Azov, Capt. McLean, bound for Montreal with a cargo of molasses from Cuba, is aground between Richard Cove and Petit de Grat, Cap Breton. A very heavy sea is running from the east and the ship will probably be a total loss.

The sailors have all rescued, having been taken off the vessel by the wrecking steamer Ocean Eagle.

The Azov is a three-masted schooner of 1,512 net tons. She was built at New Castle, in 1892, and is owned by the International Petroleum Company, Toronto. The vessel was last reported in New Orleans on April 12, having sailed there from Havana.

FIRST AEROPLANE MADE BY WRIGHT BROTHERS IN U.S. SENT TO ENGLISH MUSEUM

Dayton, April 30.—Announcement was made to-day by Orville Wright that the original Wright aeroplane, invented by him and his brother Wilbur, and which made its first flight on December 17, 1903, will be sent to The Science Museum at South Kensington, England.

"For twenty years," Mr. Wright said, "I have kept possession of the machine in the hope that a suitable place for it could be found in the United States. Several American museums have asked for it, but the one institution among these which seemed to be national enough in character was one to which I would not care to entrust the machine.

"This, together with entreaties from friends in England, led me to offer it to The Science Museum in South Kensington, where there already exists an interesting exhibit of historic experiments in aviation. This museum will provide for it a place where I am sure it will be safe and suitably cared for."

Missing Chinese Houseboy Is Accused of Killing Scottish Domestic In R.P. Baker Home

Sensational Denouement Reached in Double Mystery at Vancouver; Wong Foon Sing, Kidnapped Five Weeks Ago, Found Wandering on Streets at 3 a.m. Stupified; Murder Charge Laid by Provincial Police as Soon as His Recovery Learned

Wong Foon Sing, Chinese houseboy, was to-day arrested and charged with the Janet Smith murder.

The Chinese, who was houseboy in the home of R. P. Baker, Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver, where Janet Smith was found dead in the basement on July 26, 1924, survived two inquests and continued in the Baker employ until he was mysteriously kidnapped.

Officials of the Scottish societies in Vancouver, vowed they would never give up the fight to bring the killer of Janet Smith to justice.

Months after the murder and the failure of the local police to solve the mystery of Janet Smith's death, the Provincial forces were appealed to. Attorney-General Manson at once put M. B. Jackson, K.C., in charge of the investigation.

Attorney-General Manson at noon made the announcement here of Wong's arrest and the charge against him, in this statement:

"Wong Foon Sing has been arrested on the charge of murder this morning.

"For some months past, in fact since the second inquest into the Janet Smith affair, M. B. Jackson, K.C., who was appointed by me especially to investigate the circumstances of her death has been quietly and persistently examining every article of evidence that could be obtained.

"The investigation has been an exceedingly difficult one. Many false rumors have caused embarrassment and delay.

"As a result of the report laid before me a few days ago by Mr. Jackson, I directed a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Wong on a charge of murder.

"His disappearance gave the Crown considerable anxiety, but his arrest to-day is satisfactory.

"I have nothing to say further beyond this statement."

Many Joining League of Nations Society

Enrolment in the League of Nations Society in Canada was carried on briskly this morning at the stations which have been arranged in a number of the local stores, banks and public buildings, notably the Post Office, Public Library, Bank of Commerce, Union Bank, David Spencer Limited, and the Hudson's Bay Company. The campaign for membership is being carried on throughout Canada, under the organization of Sir George Foster. Its aim is to secure 100,000 Canadians who are willing to transform their passive support of the League of Nations into active and concrete support by the simple method of becoming members of the society in Canada. The associate membership of $1 per year includes the monthly bulletin which is issued from the League headquarters.

ACTION IS GIVEN FULL APPROVAL BY SCOTTISH SOCIETIES

Vancouver, May 1.—"We are glad that direct action has been taken at last," declared David Paterson, president of the Scottish Societies, which have had committees working on a solution of the Janet Smith mystery, ever since the death of the Scottish nurse maid.

"This is a step which I have had reason to anticipate for about a month," said Mr. Paterson, "and it certainly meets with the approval of our people."

He stated, however, that he was unable to give any suggestion as to how Wong Sing came to be on Marine Drive or to be arrested at the time and place that he was picked up by the Point Grey police.

"I suppose it is possible that he may have been brought back from Seattle or some other place and dumped there with design," he conjectured.

BOY WAS KILLED

Melville, Sask., May 1.—Jacob Schmidt, wife of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schmidt, who lives on a farm near Melville, accidentally killed this morning a young boy, thrown from a buzz.

He was taken to Point Grey police station and there formally charged by Chief of Police John Murdoch with the murder of Janet Smith.

The whereabouts of Wong Foon Sing has been a mystery to the police and public of British Columbia since he was kidnapped on Friday, March 20, following the death of Janet Smith, and the subsequent inquests and inquiries in connection with the case, the Chinese boy remained at his work in the family of R. P. Baker, who had been the employer of Janet Smith. Suddenly the Chinese was abducted from the Baker residence. From time to time rumors have been heard that he was in the custody of a certain mysterious organization which was believed to be holding him in an effort to ferret out the mystery of the death of the Smith girl.

SOLITUDE WAS QUEST

Mr. Barrett is silent and reserved, almost taciturn, and it was with the utmost difficulty that the interviewer drew from him a reluctant recital of the incidents associated with his wanderings in the world's isolated spaces.

CAMPED FOR YEAR

For the past year the Barrett party has been camping in the wild regions of the Indian frontier close to the Tibetan border, using small, wiry Indian ponies to pack their outfit from railroad to the mountain fastnesses. "I am not an explorer, neither am I a hunter," said Mr. Barrett in answering a pointed question as to the object of his remarkable trip, "I sought solitude, and I found it." No effort was made by the Barrett party to cross the Indian frontier into the forbidden and mysterious country of Tibet.

They found the mountain passes well patrolled and only under special permit were hunting parties allowed to cross the Tibetan border.

The small expedition headed by Barrett carried sufficient supplies to take care of their needs for a year and at no time did they find it necessary to hunt to replenish their food stocks.

DESOLATE SPOT

Mr. Barrett states that the country along the Tibetan border is the most desolate in the world. The Tibetan plateau is 14,000 feet above sea level and is swept by wind storms of hurricane force. Never once were they molested and Mr. Barrett claims it to be the safest place on the globe.

After getting their fill of the silent places the Barrett party pulled stakes and headed back to civilization. They embarked on a steamer at Rangoon for the Straits Settlements and then took passage to Sydney, where they

a man wandering aimlessly on Marine Drive in the vicinity of Angus Avenue. The motorist made this report at Marpole. Police were dispatched to the point indicated in the report and immediately recognized Wong Foon Sing.

The man was apparently stupefied. He was blindfolded, despite the fact that his hands were free and he could easily have removed the bandage from his eyes.

Questioned by the police, the Chinese stated that he had been tossed out of a motor car not far from the place where he was picked up. He was unable to say how long he had been wandering.

He declared that as near as he could judge, he had been driven for about three hours in the motor before being released.

It was the impression of the Chinese that he had been removed from his place of imprisonment by the men who abducted him. He was not, however, clear on this point because he said he had been blindfolded before being taken from the place of his concealment.

The man appeared to be in good health and evidently had not suffered any violence at the hands of his captors. He had even been recently shaved.

POLICE WORKED HARD AS RUMORS SPREAD

After months of disquieting rumors, the provincial police searched through the clouds surrounding the Janet Smith murder case to-day with a direct charge against Wong Foon Sing, missing Chinese house boy of the Baker home.

The mysterious disappearance of Wong Foon Sing was suddenly shorn of the mass of tangled explanations this morning when the Chinaman stepped into the police court at Point Grey and was charged before Magistrate McQueen with the murder of the Scottish domestic in the Baker home.

For some time past the police have been active on the case, reconsidering details turned up at the first two investigations. The formal charge of murder against Wong Foon Sing follows, it is understood, the discovery of a fresh angle to the case.

M. B. JACKSON CONDUCTED SPECIAL INVESTIGATION

M. B. Jackson, K.C., special investigator for the Crown in the Janet Smith murder mystery, returned from Vancouver yesterday and is in the city to-day. For weeks Mr. Jackson has been working on the case.

Information in the hands of the provincial police headquarters here this morning was confined to a bare statement that Wong Foon Sing had disappeared and was now charged with the murder of the Scottish domestic of the Baker home. The information alleging murder was signed by Assistant Superintendent Walter Owen, of the Provincial police.

The reappearance of Wong Foon Sing is as dramatic as his disappearance on Friday, March 20. He was found by a Point Grey resident wandering blindfold and dazed in the outskirts of that municipality at 3 a.m. to-day.

The resident telephoned Chief Murdoch of the Point Grey police, and Wong Foon Sing was taken to the jail quarters, where the murder charge was later laid. The Chinaman appeared to have no recollection of the house in which he had been and answered questions in a dazed and somewhat stupefied manner, it is asserted.

DRIVEN ABOUT STREETS AND TURNED LOOSE

The missing man has an impression that he was taken from the quarters in which he had been confined for over five weeks and driven for a couple of hours about the streets of the city before being turned

OTTAWA BUDGET VOTE

OTTAWA, May 1.—After twenty-four days of debate, the House at 9 o'clock this morning adopted the budget by a majority of 17, the vote being 123 for and 86 against.

The unexpected large majority aroused wild enthusiasm among the Liberal members. Their forecasts had been between 20 and 25. When the result was announced, they banged their desks in applause and sang the song "Into the Air."

Seventeen Progressives and Independents voted with the Government, including in their number J. P. Johnston, chief Progressive whip. Robert Forke, Progressive leader, with the remaining Progressives, voted with the Conservatives against the Government on the main motion.

AMENDMENT FAILED

The vote was preceded by a division on the Conservative amendment proposed by Sir Henry Owen calling for a reduction of taxation. This amendment was defeated by 164 to 48, or a majority against of 116.

Liberal and Progressive members voted against the Conservatives. William Irvine, Liberal, Calgary, voted with the Conservatives, but otherwise it was a straight party vote.

SIXTEEN-HOUR DEBATE

The last day's debate had lasted sixteen hours. Following the speech of the Liberal and Conservative leaders, it passed mainly into the hands of the "Ginger Group" of Progressives. There were little over the question of responsibility for the long-drawn-out debate.

W. A. Boys, chief Conservative whip, charged that Premier King himself had filled twenty-nine columns of Hansard during the session, which Mr. Boys said was one-third of the total wordage of all the Conservatives.

When the long night had passed a dreary dawn filtered through the high windows on a curious scene. There was but a scattering of members in the House. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, trying hard to keep awake, was the only Minister there. Hon. S. F. Tolmie, fast asleep, was the sole occupant of the front Opposition bench.

There were rows and rows of empty seats, and as corridor doors opened now and again, singing and roars of laughter came from above. The members of the "ginger group" sat together at the far end of the Chamber, now carrying on the debate alone. In the public galleries half a dozen women, heavily enthralled by the politics, had sat through the night.

Speeches went on and on, yet with the exception of the Hansard staff, no one seemed to be paying the slightest attention.

MEMBERS RETURNED

By 6 in the morning most members had slipped into the Chamber. A new day's distributed morning editions and desks were rapidly hidden beneath the opened sheets. There was a growing tendency to interrupt.

W. C. Good, Progressive, of Brant, Ontario, was speaking when he was brought up with a protest that he was reading his speech.

"I understand the honorable gentleman was giving a citation," responded Deputy Speaker Gordon. "Of course it would be contrary to the rules for him to read his speech."

Mr. Good sharply added that he was quoting from a book review. "To expedite progress," he added, "I would suggest that I have the minimum number of interruptions."

"Oh, put it into Hansard as read," protested a Liberal member.

ENTITLED TO SPEAK

Speaker Lemieux, who had taken the chair, observed that no member had the right to say that another member was obstructing the business of the House. Mr. Good, he added, was entitled to speak, as he had not had a chance to speak before.

"He has had five or six chances," asserted Hon. E. M. Macdonald. "I would like to know who is obstructing now," said Mr. Good, and there were cheers from the Ginger group.

Continuing against numerous interruptions, Mr. Good said he believed in Liberalism, but that did not imply faith in the so-called Liberal Party.

Once again there were Liberal protests that Mr. Good was reading his speech.

He was upheld by the Speaker. Mr. Good went on. The House read the morning paper or dined as time wore on and daylight dimmed the electric globes in the Chamber.

LAST SPEAKER

J. W. Ward, Progressive, Dauphin, Manitoba, was the last speaker, and he took only a few moments.

It was a few minutes after 3 when the division bells rang for the Conservative amendment. When following the vote, the speaker announced the amendment lost, R. J. Woods, Conservative, Dufferin, Ontario, took advantage of the falling of the main motion to refer to statements he had made in his speech on the amendment. There were shouts of "Shut up." After Mr. Woods had concluded his brief statement, the House divided on the main motion.

After the longest Budget debate in the Canadian House in thirty years, if not in its history, had come to an end, the House adjourned at 9 a.m. With two hours' interval for dinner it had been in continuous session since 3 o'clock on the previous afternoon.

PROGRESS NEEDED

During his speech last night Premier King, amid applause from the Liberals, unequivocally declared that if more progress were not made with legislation, Parliament would be dissolved. His declaration followed a query as to when such legislation was to be brought down. He could not say, he told the House. It would depend on the progress made.

"But I want to make it perfectly clear," he went on, "that this Government does not intend to stay through the summer months trying to carry on the business of this country because honorable gentlemen opposite wish to go in opposite directions at the same time."

"I will say here, right now," the Premier added a moment later, "that if the Government finds it impossible to carry on the business of the country in an expeditious and satisfactory manner, I will not hesitate for one moment to ask his Excellency to dissolve this house."

PEOPLE INTERESTED

The Government had done everything to expedite the public business, he said believing the Canadian people did not want the session to be over long. This session had appeared to be going along expeditiously when, for some reason or other, the Opposition had begun to protract and delay the business of the House in an unreasonable manner and in a manner without precedent.

The resolution to bring in the Ocean Rates Bill had been held up seven days and then the Conservatives complained because the Government had brought on a division. In contrast, it was interesting to recall the fact that the resolution preceding the bill for the acquisition of the Canadian National Railways had been forced through the House by the late Conservative Government and no debate at all was permitted.

The Premier enumerated instances in the present session when he thought the business had been unduly delayed by the opposition.

A HANDSOME MARGIN

WITH A MAJORITY OF thirty-seven—a handsome margin in a House composed of three parties and a membership of 235—the King Government's fourth budget was approved in the Commons at nine o'clock this morning. Two hundred and nine votes were recorded and out of this number the Administration obtained 123 and the combined Opposition 86. Seventeen Progressives and one Independent voted with the Government and forty-six Conservatives and thirty-eight Progressives composed all but two of the negative votes.

As far as the result of the division concerns the immediate and future fortunes of the Government the triumph revealed by the handsome majority recorded simply means that the programme upon which the Administration has already embarked can be proceeded with with a full measure of confidence. By the same token it means that there appears to be no immediately pressing need for the Government to appeal to the people for their reaffirmation of policies which their elected representatives are able to support in such a convincing manner. And the fact that such an expression of confidence should have followed the Prime Minister's warning that he would hasten a dissolution of the House, unless its members disposed of the budget in prompt fashion, may be regarded as a general disposition on the part of those who are more concerned about the business and progress of the country than they are about petty political manoeuvre to strengthen the mandate which the Government already has.

Clearly one of the most significant features of the division is the fact that seventeen Progressives voted for a budget which contained but comparatively insignificant tariff concessions; the Government taking the view that the effect of the operation of the very substantial changes which have been made in the fiscal system during the last two years should be more fully examined before further reductions are made, while in the wider political sense this obvious cleavage in Progressive thought is another and more potent indication that Canada is rapidly travelling the road to a complete revival of the two-party system of government—with Liberal ideals predominating.

At least the Government's victory on the budget will be cold comfort for the members of the Party which Mr. Meighen—much to the annoyance of some of the Opposition followers and a number of Conservative journals—continues to lead along the gloomy byways of petty politics. As a form of recompense for his obstructionist tactics during the days of the debate, his blue-ruin speeches throughout the country, he will have witnessed this morning a very considerable acquisition of strength by the Government—particularly from the old and populous Province of Ontario—in whose stead he thinks he should now be governing.

THE OTHER SIDE

WHILE SOME PEOPLE who almost invariably know little or nothing about Canada or Canadian conditions are doing their utmost to discourage migration from Britain to this country, it is not surprising to discover that those Old Countrymen who are here and have made a success of their enterprise are beginning to take a hand in the refutation of some of the doleful and often ridiculous pictures which biased or disgruntled individuals are painting in some British journals.

The following appears over the signature of a settler at Cosedale, Alberta, and it is typical of others which have made their appearance on the other side of the late:

As Canada has given me a home and a livelihood far better than I could get in my own home country, I feel it my duty to say so. It must be distinctly understood that no matter what position a man may be placed in, he cannot achieve success without conscientious hard work. I have lived in Canada for seven years, having arrived here with little or no cash to start farming.

first worked for farmers and saved sufficient money to make a payment on a farm of my own and erect necessary buildings. I have since kept up my payments and my credit is good.

I have nine head of work horses, a driving pony upon which the children go to school—15 head of cattle, and sufficient hogs and poultry to keep the household going. A man with some cash who is not afraid of work can get ahead far better in this country than in European countries. He can purchase land on long easy terms, and should he have the misfortune to get a setback every consideration is shown him.

Of course the Western Provinces of Canada are chiefly agricultural, and it is useless for artisans to expect to succeed there except through agricultural pursuits. I feel certain that there is a great future for all who are willing to work. My Old Country friends who may be contemplating coming here, should be determined to settle down to real conscientious work, they will never regret the move.

There is nothing extravagant in the arguments which this successful Old Country settler has set forth. He points out in language which everybody should be able to understand that the man who comes to Canada on the understanding that if he works and makes up his mind that he is going to get on, he will not only succeed but will also find plenty of people here to give him a leg up when he may need it.

OUR DOLLAR

WHILE SOME PEOPLE are advertising their own particular contention that this country has ceased to be a country of opportunity, no longer to be regarded as a desirable part of the British Empire to which to emigrate, the Canadian dollar quietly improves upon its parity with its American neighbor by exceeding one hundred cents in value on the New York money market yesterday.

This is the first time this year that the Canadian dollar has been quoted on Wall Street at a figure above par. Banking circles ascribe no special reason for yesterday's highly satisfactory jump above the line. The incident may be relatively unimportant in the strictest financial sense. Be that as it may, the very fact that the American dollar admits for the time being that the Canadian dollar is worth just a little more than itself is one of those economic signs the significance of which is not lost on the rest of the world.

It remains an encouraging fact that this country's money was the first Allied currency to recover from its disability. It is the first and only currency that has risen superior to the American dollar since the armistice. This it has now done upon two occasions. Even the disciples of blue ruin will have to admit that there is nothing fundamentally the matter with Canada when the American dollar finds itself obliged to bow to her own.

JUST ONE DOLLAR

WHEN HE WAS ON THE Coast the other day Sir John Aird reminded British Columbians that prosperity in Canada as well as in other parts of the world depends a good deal more than many people think upon Europe's economic stability.

As a banker of ripe experience Sir John is familiar with the manner in which political uncertainty in the Old World exercises its baleful influence upon the New. It is only natural therefore that the banks of this country should assist in every way possible the membership campaign which the League of Nations Society of Canada launched yesterday in order that the one and only organization striving for peace in the world may be strengthened in its efforts to assist Europe to permanent stability in the fullest sense of the term.

World peace is a personal matter. Six thousand miles away from the actual fighting line has not reduced the direct effect which the Great War had, still has, and will continue to have upon the pockets of every Victorian. Consequently it is in everybody's interest to see that the League of Nations is furnished with all the power and authority that is essential for the prevention of future wars—the prevention of additional war charges to the people of Victoria.

Join the local branch to-day and let the word go out that the capital city of British Columbia has responded in fullest measure to the appeal upon which humanity is staking so much. One dollar will buy a membership and assist the greatest of world causes.

Miss Mary MacSwiney seems to have got into the United States without a passport and she says if there is any trouble about it she will start a hunger strike. Since this is a favorite pastime of the busy lady from what she still calls the "Irish Republic" it is possible that our friends across the border will let her strike.

We observe that the Conservative press has not asked Mr. Bowser what he thinks of the result in the Grand Forks-Greenwood by-election. Years ago there was a case of complete exhaustion which was due entirely to a sustained fit of laughing. As the ex-Leader of the Opposition is an ardent devotee of the royal and ancient pastime, we shall hope that an over-exuberant spirit will not be responsible for the missing of short putts during the next few days.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON CONCEALED RICHES

A STORY has been going the rounds of the press of a man by the name of Nils Fischer.

He is the son of one of the richest men in Sweden. Some time ago he disappeared and for several months was advertised for by his family.

He seemed to be suffering some mental aberration. While hungry and in rags he read a notice posted up on the wall of the Y.M.C.A. This was after he had begged a meal at the Y.M.C.A.

"Aimlessly walking about the big room," said the press report, "the blond young man, ragged and penniless, a typical, futile derelict among the mass of human wreckage, paused in front of the bulletin board."

"Directly in front of him was a large poster, a duplicate of the thousands which have been shown in the west of Canada since December sixth."

Then his slumbering brain awoke. He reported to police headquarters and said he was probably the man who was advertised.

He was rescued by an agent of his father and placed under medical care.

Although an heir to great riches he deemed himself poor and was leading the life of a tramp. There are many more men and women in the city who are leading desperate lives who are moral millionaires.

They have stores of courage, faith and spiritual energy that they do not know how to use. All the world is theirs and they have only to go up and claim it.

The instrumentality by which a poor man or woman gets hold of these riches is called faith or courage. It can be utilized at any time.

Those who give up to failure, commit suicide or otherwise yield themselves in the battle of life, are not aware of their hidden riches. It is only when we realize the amount of force contained within ourselves! How few have drawn on the resources of the universe which are ours to command!

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

FRIDAY, MAY 1

JOSEPH ADDISON Distinguished English essayist, poet and statesman, known chiefly as the author of the "Sir Roger De Coverley" papers, and as founder, with Sir Richard Steele of The Spectator, was born on May 1, 1672. He took a prominent part in English politics, and served as secretary for Ireland and secretary of state.

JOHN DRYDEN Celebrated English poet, critic, and dramatist, the dominating figure in English poetry for the last century, died at London on May 1, 1700. He was buried with royal honors in Westminster Abbey, and was laid to rest in Chaucer's grave. His chief poetic works are "Heroic Stanzas" on the death of Cromwell, "Alexander's Feast" and "Translation of Virgil."

GEORGE INNESS (The Elder) — Noted American landscape painter, highly regarded for his coloring and sensitive reproduction of the moods of nature, was born at Newburgh, N.Y., on May 1, 1825. Among his best works are "After the Storm," "View Near Rome" and "Sunset."

ALFRED DE MUSSET Famous French poet, died at Paris on May 1, 1857. His strength, according to stories of the day, was supported by irregular and dissolute living. He published his first volume of poems when he was twenty years old, and for a score of years thereafter exerted considerable influence upon French letters.

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

To the Editor:—The statements appearing in a recent article on the efficacy of vaccination in local papers are somewhat vague. It is in a sense true that numbers of people died of smallpox before the "discovery" of vaccination by Dr. Jenner. (His name, by the way, was Edward, not William, and he bought his degree of M.D. from a Scottish University for £15.) The spread of smallpox was accounted for (a) by the terribly unsanitary conditions; (b) by the fact that people were actually inoculated with smallpox in the hope of escaping a more virulent form of the disease. Consequently the disease spread greatly.

Dr. Parr, of the Registrar-General's Department (probably the greatest statistician England has ever produced) says "Smallpox attained its maximum mortality after inoculation was introduced," and after quoting figures to prove his contention he says, "This disease, therefore, began to grow less fatal before vaccination was discovered, indicating the general improvement in health which was taking place."

When Jenner substituted vaccination for inoculation, many people fell to the idea at once, but there was a squabble between the pro-inoculation and the pro-vaccination and the latter won out. Vaccination was, in short, less dangerous than inoculation. The fashion of exaggerating the mortality of smallpox which occurred prior to the introduction of vaccination seems inexorable. Vaccination itself never could and never has reduced smallpox because there is no connection whatever between smallpox and vaccination. As sanitary reform has been adopted, so the disease has declined.

The statement that most efficiently vaccinated countries suffer least is contrary to experience and the history of the epidemics. Germany is cited as an example. The choice seems a poor one. Sanitation alone has caused a decline in disease in Germany, as in other countries.

Where sanitary conditions have broken down, smallpox has become a scourge. The epidemic of 1917, for example, was due to the fact that the disease for the last forty years is not correct. In 1917, Herr Hoffman stated in the Reichstag that there were no cases of smallpox in Northern Germany, that the disease was spreading and that vaccination was of no avail to stop it. The onset of September, 1917, also referred to this outbreak. There was also another outbreak in 1921.

Japan is the most vaccinated country in the world and suffers most from epidemics.

Reference is also made to the Philippines and we are told that in five years after the epidemic of 1917, the mortality from smallpox fell from 2,000 a year to nothing. This is in a report for 1921, yet the epidemic of 1917 was not over until 1921.

These statistics look small; place them in perspective and they are not so small. In 1917, there were 112,548 cases of smallpox and 46,485 deaths among these cases. The mortality was 41 per cent.

This is about the highest record in history! Manila which was in a shocking unsanitary condition, and where the disease was spreading and where vaccination was of no avail to stop it. The onset of September, 1917, also referred to this outbreak. There was also another outbreak in 1921.

A CORRECTION AND AN APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—I note with deep regret that the Ryba has gone down with the loss of four lives. Such a mishap is ever an occasion for sorrow, but may I correct your description of the scene of the disaster? Your account in last night's edition says that the Ryba sank off the "Aberdeen bar," which is stated to be off the Columbia River. It so happens that I am a resident of Aberdeen, and I can assure you that neither Aberdeen nor the bar is "off" the Columbia River.

Aberdeen, a city of 20,000 people, is about 120 miles by motor road south of Seattle and 140 miles north and west of Portland, and about 200 miles by ferry and auto south of Victoria. It is sixty or seventy-five miles from the mouth of the Columbia River, which is the source of the Pacific Northwest, which is to say, in the world, more than a billion and a quarter feet of forest products crossed over the bar last year. I am not boasting of it because it reveals a depletion of capital resources in too large a scale, but I state the fact simply to show that the port is not unimportant.

The port comprises in general the three contiguous towns of Aberdeen, Barkerville, and Comox. The population of the port is more than 37,000. They are not an adjunct of the Columbia River or the State of Oregon. They send their goods direct to the coast of British Columbia, South America and the east coast of the United States. These towns, about fifteen miles inland from the mouth of the Columbia, are on the Olympic peninsula and are on the Olympic highway, now under construction by the State of Washington.

The article concludes with reference to an outbreak in Montreal in 1915 and we are told that the upper classes were vaccinated and escaped smallpox while the lower classes refused and died. This is a misleading statement. It was Dr. Monckton Copeman, I believe, who stated in 1922 that Montreal was a well vaccinated area and that the epidemic was not an epidemic of smallpox but of typhoid fever. The reason the poor classes came off more lightly was that they lived under healthier conditions. The epidemic raged in three localities which were notoriously unsanitary practically every house, we are told, being over a cesspool. Sanitation and smallpox generally keep company!

PULPWOOD EMBARGO

To the Editor:—I note another recent letter in the press by one W. O. Sealey, of Hamilton, on the embargo question. It is not this same Mr. Sealey who recently sent a circular letter all over Canada saying that we exported 1,000,000 cords of pulpwood which produced but $10,000,000, which if kept at home and manufactured into newsprint would have produced $250,000,000, which he now casually attempts to explain by saying that he had not made sufficient allowance for waste and shrinkage in manufacture—$250,000,000 evaporation and shrinkage in a product with a total value of only $10,000,000, and that the greater than the entire value of our total exports of pulp and paper products—but then, what is $250,000,000 to an embargoist?

Apparently this genial gentleman is still disposed to trifle with figures of which he knows but little, for in his latest confusion he states that 1,300,000 cords is one-third of our total annual cut. Evidently Mr. Sealey doesn't know very much about our total annual cut.

And I see that he objects also to the investment of what he calls "Canadian money" in the Algonquin plant at Odessa.

Easy Mr. Sealey, easy—the way you talk about "Canadian wood" and "Canadian money" is just the way you talk about the rest of the violently public spirited citizens who are so keen to direct the policy of this country in respect to other people's property, rights in the wood that is being shipped to the United States, or the money that Mr. McKee or Mr. Angus have put into the Odessa plant. You have no more interest in either than I have in your house and lot or your savings account in the bank. And there is no more justification for the Government prohibiting me from selling my pulpwood where and to whom I please, or preventing Mr. McKee or Mr. Angus from investing their money in Odessa, than there would be for example, in its prohibiting you from selling your house and lot to anyone but an Irishman, or preventing you from the Grays Harbor bar is not very dangerous and few ships have been lost there. The bar, which is formed by the mouth of the Chehalis River, is less than three miles wide, with very deep water on both sides. Its minimum depth is about twenty-eight feet and the channel is a thousand feet in width. The United States Government is engaged now in improvement work, which we expect will result in a permanent minimum depth of fifty feet at the lowest stages of the tides.

I am not undertaking any silly "poster" task, which certainly should and would fall flat in daylight. Victoria, but Aberdeen and Barkerville are not so far distant as that either should mistake the location of the other. Why, you can gaze any day from the picturesque Victoria Golf Club course at Oak Bay across the blue waters to the Olympics, which give the name to the peninsula that lies at the very doors of Grays Harbor. Certainly, Aberdeen knows where Victoria is, and there are numerous Aberdeen residents who come here again and again, not for liquor, but to glory on each visit in the loveliness of this very lovely city, to renew charming friendships, to take keen pleasure in the golf courses so courteously opened to them, and to delight, among other delights, in the splendid Empress, which among hotels has a distinction all its own.

In nearly twenty-five years of editorship this is the first letter I have ever written to a newspaper, and I trust to be forgiven, but I do located during my brief absence lest my home be mislaid; and I do desire to attest my delight in Victoria—its water, its air, its scenery, its climate to the full its charm and wealth of beauty.

HEALTH & DISEASE

ASTHMA

Asthma is characterized by an acute attack of breathlessness coming on usually at night in an otherwise healthy person. Anyone who has ever had this distressing complaint can most accurately describe its various phases.

The cause of asthma is a peculiar sensitiveness that these patients have developed to certain dusts—animal emanations—foods—or infections. A very slight exposure to the substance to which they are sensitive will pull the trigger and cause the explosion of the attack of asthma.

For example, one man cannot go around horses without having an attack of asthma—another one cannot have a cat in the room—another person cannot eat certain foods, such as crabs, tomatoes, etc. The attacks of late years certain skin tests have been worked out by which in many cases the particular offending substance can be detected.

By avoiding these particular foods or dusts may cure their asthma. A thorough examination of the body may be made to discover the cause of the attacks. There are though a large number of cases in which the cause cannot be discovered. A change of residence to a dry sunny climate may effect a cure. On the other hand, there are, unfortunately, a large number of asthmatics who, in spite of every treatment, continue to have attacks at intervals. They often live to a good old age, and become human encyclopedias on the treatment of asthma.

Many cures for asthma are widely advertised. Some are harmless and will relieve the attacks. They contain well known drugs such as any medical man might prescribe to relieve the acute attacks. Others, while effective in relieving the attacks, contain harmful and habit forming narcotics, and the cure in that case, is worse than the disease. A sufferer from asthma should have a thorough examination to discover the cause.

The script called for several difficult night scenes of ships at some points more than half a mile away from the camera yet Norbert F.
Brodin, the camera man, with the cooperation of Mr. Lloyd and the crew of the ship has produced some startling results.

Mr. Brodin has photographed a ship with its mainmast pennant 105 feet above the water line, coming with her sails bellying in the wind toward the camera, from out the darkness of the night with the effect of a ghost arising from ethereal nothingness. By expert knowledge of light and composition he has pictured the picturesque Moorish galley of Sakr-el-Bahr, being rowed by her galley slaves across the horizon, with great artistry.

The difficult sea scenes and night scenes are not alone Mr. Bro-din's accomplishments in recording
"The Sea Hawk." The lighting of certain quaint English interiors and the photographic quality of the scenes at the auction block where Rosamund, the English gentlewoman and the Andalusian girl are sold to the Moorish merchants are scenes of rare artistic technique. As to photographing of individuals, his action portraits of Milton Sills and paintings and tapestries by his hand-

FAST AND FURIOUS IS SCREEN SHOW AT THE COLISEUM

How do you like your screen entertainment—fast and furious?
You'll be right in your glory at the Coliseum Theatre where "The Story Without a Name" is showing. It's a Paramount picture, directed by Irvin Willat and features Agnes Ayres and Antonio Moreno.
The picture is an adaptation by Victor Irvin of the Photoplay Magazine Radio-Prize-Title story by Arthur Stringer, author of "Man-handed," "Empty Hands," etc.
There's an A-1 cast playing in support of the principals.

CAREY PORTRAYAL MOST CONVINCING IN "TIGER THOMPSON"

Harry Carey is the most human two-run gun on the screen.
If there had been any doubt about it before, he proved it to everyone's complete satisfaction yesterday at the Columbia Theatre, where his new picture, "Tiger Thompson," opened a three days' engagement.
"Tiger Thompson" has all the action, drama, thrills and spirit of the great outdoors that admirers of the Western screen love, but it also has something more—a note of realism, of downright humanness that few pictures of this type possess.

In his portrayal of the reformed bandit, whose efforts to go straight provide temptations that threaten to break down his better resolves, he gives a portrayal that is convincing at all times. An ex-bandit he may be, but the spectator sympathizes with him in his struggles to do right, and cheers him on to the victory which he finally achieves.

Marguerite Clayton, as the beautiful young ranch owner, who is instrumental in Tiger Thompson's complete regeneration, is a heroine worth fighting for and John W. Dillon and Jack Richardson provide a brace of despicable villains.

The settings provide an inspiring background for the thrilling action, and the direction of "Breath of Reason" brings out many lovable character touches.

"Tiger Thompson" is a Hunt
Stromberg production, and is released by the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation.

ALICE TERRY WAS DISAPPOINTED IN FILMING OF SCENE

Alice Terry suffered a bitter disappointment during the filming of "Sackcloth and Scarlet," which Henry King directed for Paramount release.

At the time she was signed for the role of Joan Freeman she had not read this George Riggs story but knew that one of the scenes depicted a thrilling rescue of a girl on a runaway horse.

For the previous six months she had ridden almost daily and had achieved real proficiency in horsemanship, an accomplishment of which she is more than proud. She looked upon "Sackcloth and Scarlet" as an excellent opportunity in which to display her skill.

But when she inquired regarding the kind of riding habit she should wear, she was told that Dorothy Sebastian, who plays the part of her sister, was the girl who figured in the rescue so Miss Terry watched it from the sidelines.

Miss Terry, Orville Caldwell and Miss Sebastian are the three featured players in "Sackcloth and Scarlet," which plays at the Dominion Theatre. It's an appealing romance of two sisters.

FLORA LE BRETON IS STARRING IN "SCARLET PIMPERNEL"

The celebrated tale of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" has now been filmed and is sure to draw crowded houses to the Playhouse next week.

The picture is alive with the thrills of the original novel, and has been produced with a lavishness that makes it doubly enjoyable to the senses.

The picture has been given a cast of exceptional distinction, including Miss Flora Le Breton, Holmes Herbert (the popular Irish-born artist) and Pedro de Cordoba, the American actor who is so well known on both sides of the Atlantic.

ERNEST TORRENCE IN "DRESSMAKER FROM PARIS" FILM

Ernest Torrence felt out of place and rather liked the sensation.
After having played rough frontier characters such as he portrayed in
"The Covered Wagon" and "North of '36," Ernest Torrence rather liked being planted among the ladies for his featured role with Leatrice Joy in the Paramount picture, "The Dressmaker from Paris," which comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

Torrence is cast as the senior partner in a departmental store in the picture, directed by Paul Bern, and in which are the world's fourteen most beautiful women, assembled during a globe encircling search.

Sharing closeups and long shots with Paramount's International Beauty Models rather appealed to Ernest as a welcome change from long, hard location trips into the open country.

Others in the cast of "The Dressmaker from Paris," written expressly for the screen by Adelaide Helbron and Howard Hawks, are Alice Forrest, Mildred Harris, Larry Grey,
Charles Crockett, Rosemary Cooper
and "Spec" O'Donnell.

"MADAME SANS GENE" IS GLORIA SWANSON FILM MASTERPIECE

The first motion picture ever to play on Broadway five dollars a seat—that's the reputation "Madame Sans Gene," hailed as Gloria Swanson's cinemasterpiece, made for itself at its opening performance in New York. Moreover, the theatre was packed to the rafters for the occasion, with hundreds of unsuccessful applicants for seats and a crowd of several thousands giving the police a tussle outside the theatre in their effort to get into the place and also to catch a glimpse of Miss Swanson and her French nobleman-husband, the Marquis de la Palaise de la Cou-dray.

Manager Robertson has booked
"Madame Sans Gene" at the Dominion Theatre for next week showings.

Even for Gloria Swanson, whose screen efforts are always acted in elaborate settings and gowns, "Madame Sans Gene" is an unusually luxurious production. It was filmed in France, and the backgrounds include the palaces at Versailles, Pontainbleau and Compiègne, spots hitherto forbidden to motion picture directors. Gloria is seen sleeping in the actual golden bed of Marie Antoinette, flirting in the gardens where that unfortunate Queen conducted her amorous intrigues, and coqueting with Napoleon (Emile Drain) in the actual private chamber which the real Napoleon occupied. The results are said to be startlingly realistic in the extreme.

In "Madame Sans Gene" (Madame Devil-May-Care), Miss Swanson has
the role of the witty, flirtatious little French laundress, who used to wash Napoleon's shirts for him, when he was an insouciant corporal, who married one of Napoleon's sergeants, and who was swept by the French Revolution into the title of Duchess and residence of Napoleon's court, where she alternately scandalized and sent into hilarious laughter the haughty lords and ladies, ending by saving the Emperor's honor and winning for herself Napoleon's eternal gratitude.

Charles de Roche, the Pharaoh of Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," heads the cast playing in support of Miss Swanson. The picture was directed by Leonard Perrot from Forrest Halsey's adaptation of the stage play by Victorien Sardou and Emile Moreau.

STOCK BREEDERS TO HOLD FIRST SALE

Will Be on Similar Lines to Well-known Kamloops
Bull Sale

The first Provincial auction sale of high-class, pure-bred dairy cattle to be held under the auspices of the B.C. Stock Breeders' Association and in co-operation with the different breed associations, will be held in Vancouver, June 24.

The sale will be conducted very similar to the Kamloops bull sale, which has been successful for the past seven successive years, and which the cattle-raiser to-day regards as an important auxiliary to his business.

The promoters of the dairy sale believe that equal, if not greater, results can be achieved for the dairy breeder as already accomplished for the breeder of beef cattle. If such is the case, it is most important that special attention be paid to the quality of the entries.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's May Basket

Copyright, 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Once upon a time Uncle Butter, the funny old goat gentleman, was hopping through the fields going to visit Mr. Twelvetail, the pig, when two big, long ears popped up out of the bushes.

"Baa-a-a! Baa-a-a!" bleated Uncle Butter. "If they don't belong to Uncle Wiggily I'll never eat another bit of brown paper!"

"Yes, those are my ears," said Uncle Wiggily, bobbing up from the long grass where he was almost hidden from sight. "You guessed right, Butter!"

"What are you doing here?" the goat gentleman asked. "Have you lost anything?" For he saw that Uncle Wiggily was looking down in the grass and amid the weeds behind the bushes, as though searching for something.

"I am out here trying to find a few early blossoms to make a May basket for my new wife," said Uncle Wiggily, who had scarcely been married a week.

"Oh, ho! A May basket of flowers!" cried Uncle Butter. "Why don't you take her a basket of eggs, or a basket of cabbage, or something like that?"

"You aren't at all poetical!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Don't you know that this is May Day and that always, on May Day, you must take a basket of flowers to some one you love?"

"Is that so?" cried the goat. "Then I had better be looking around for flowers to take to Aunt Lettie, for I love her. That's what I'll do, Uncle Wiggily. I'll make a May basket also."

So away ran the goat gentleman to get a basket in which to put some early spring flowers, and Uncle Wiggily continued to search for the blossoms he had started out after. At first he saw none, but finally he found some early violets, a dandelion or two and some crocus flowers, which he put in the basket together with some soft, green grass.

Then Uncle Wiggily set his basket down on the ground to hop around and get a bit of soft, green moss to cover over the flowers, and while he was out of sight for a moment, along flew a big Bumble Bee.

"Ah!" buzzed the Bee as it saw the basket of May posies. "Those blossoms are just what I want to rest honey from. I'll snuggle down inside them and suck out the sweet juice. Whoever owns them will not mind if I do that."

The Bumble Bee flew into the midst of the flowers and after he had gathered as much honey as he wanted he began to feel drowsy and,

While the Bee slept, back came Uncle Wiggily with some moss, which he covered over the bee, flowers and all, and then the bunny gentleman took the May basket to his new wife.

"Oh, how sweet!" exclaimed Mrs. Wiggily, lifting off the moss. "Oh, what lovely blossoms, Uncle Wiggily! It was good for you to bring them to me the first day of May." Then she put her pink nose down amid the blossoms, and she happened to touch the Bumble Bee.

So quickly was the bee awakened that he didn't know what he was doing.

"Oh! Oh!" she cried, flinging the May basket from her. "That was an unkind trick, Mr. Longears, to put a sharp pin in my May basket!"

"Pin!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Pin! I didn't put a pin in it. It must have been some of those mischievous little rabbits of yours! They're always up to tricks!"

"No one put a pin in the flowers!" cried the Bee who did not want to make trouble. "It was I who stung you, Mrs. Wiggily. But I didn't mean to, and I'll get you some soft mud to put on your nose and that will take away the pain of my sting."

And so he did and the pain soon stopped, though Mrs. Wiggily's nose was swelled up like a little balloon for two days. But she was very glad to get the May basket, and, later on the Bumble Bee brought her some honey. "So everything happened for the best."

ing and, thinking some one was trying to hurt him, he stung Mrs. Wiggily on her nose.

"Oh! Oh!" she cried, flinging the May basket from her. "That was an unkind trick, Mr. Longears, to put a sharp pin in my May basket!"

"Pin!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Pin! I didn't put a pin in it. It must have been some of those mischievous little rabbits of yours! They're always up to tricks!"

"No one put a pin in the flowers!" cried the Bee who did not want to make trouble. "It was I who stung you, Mrs. Wiggily. But I didn't mean to, and I'll get you some soft mud to put on your nose and that will take away the pain of my sting."

And so he did and the pain soon stopped, though Mrs. Wiggily's nose was swelled up like a little balloon for two days. But she was very glad to get the May basket, and, later on the Bumble Bee brought her some honey. "So everything happened for the best."

"And if the door-mat doesn't come up stairs in the night and tickle the foot of the bed, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the queer bird."

Wrinkles Vanish Before Your Very Eyes!

Just think! In your mirror, before your very eyes, you see the wrinkles, age lines and sagging vanish from your face! And it's such a simple and harmless treatment. Just mix a spoonful of powdered talcum with a spoonful of lemon juice. Apply to your face and watch the most marvelous change take place—in less than 15 minutes. See the horrid wrinkles, worry lines, creases and sagging quickly disappear. It is a wonderful, startling sensation. Only the actual experience could make you believe it.

The application is easily washed off. The result is far better than the most expensive and expert face massage ever given. And the treatment costs less than three cents! Procure an original package of powdered talcum from your druggist, try it, and you will have the surprise of your life. (Adv.)

Police Dog Aided In Man's Capture

Randolph, Vt., May 1.—A German police dog to-day led three men to the barn of an abandoned farm in South Brookfield, where they found East Woodward, a man and a former convict, and eleven-year-old Lucille Chatterton, who left her home in Greenville with Woodward a week ago. Woodward was captured without resistance.

The capture brought to an end a dramatic and search by armed posse throughout the Wood Mountain townships in which Woodward had been a fugitive since he took the child away from the home of her father last Friday night.

Woman Refused Doctor's Aid: Died

Vancouver, May 1.—Death as the result of a malignant disease was the verdict of the coroner's jury at an inquest yesterday held to inquire into the case of Mrs. Minnie Patterson, who died on Wednesday.

The jury added the rider: "We deplore the fact that medical aid was not called for her case until few minutes before her death."

Roy Patterson, eldest son of the deceased, stated he had tried to persuade her to have a doctor called, but she refused, because of her "faith in God, the Master Healer."

ON POLICE DOCKET

"Thirty-one miles an hour past the intersection of Douglas and Hillside Avenue is too fast," commented Magistrate Day inquiring Fred Hughes, 115 in City police court to-day on a charge of driving at this common danger. The defendant drew the need blue card issued this week surrendering the original personal driving license. The offence was denied.

Fifteen motorists were charged with various breaches of the traffic regulations and city by-laws, sustaining fines of $5 to $1 apiece according to whether the offence was rear light infringement or overtime parking. One motorist had an ingenious device to a rear light case producing a large red reflector which he said passed current for a rear light in the State of California. The law charged somewhat as the square of the distance and Canadian provisions were therefore different, he was told.

Trial opened in the case of Rex vs. Sam Chong, wherein the accused is charged with operating a laundry faster the sun had retired for the day. Hearing continues.

At the close of liquor prosecutions yesterday George Kendrick was fined $300 and Mrs. Ellen Ferguson $400 upon conviction for infraction of the Government Liquor Act. Charges against Sam Clausen, Mrs. Clausen and G. L. Chapman were remanded until Saturday for hearing. Special constables were brought from Vancouver to help the city constables on the principle that Victoria officers were well known to alleged violators and breaches of the law correspondingly hard to detect unless unknown operators were used.

COURT OF APPEAL JUDGMENTS GIVEN

Vancouver, May 1.—Judgments were rendered to-day by the Court of Appeal in several appeals which had been reserved after argument.

The appeal was dismissed, Justices Gallie and M. A. Macdonald dissenting, of Canada Timber and Lands Limited from the assessment of Mr. Harold Brown, deputy registrar of the Supreme Court, who in accordance with a judgment of the judicial committee of the privy council awarded J. C. Clausen and six other logging operators $235,000 for breach of a contract to log timber on Toba River.

The appeal was dismissed of North Vancouver Land and Improvement Company Limited from a judgment of Judge Ruggles, who affirmed the assessment of the North Vancouver City Court of Revision of the appellant's property. An important point involved was whether the city could tax water lots, the company contending this property came within the jurisdiction of the Harbor Commissioners; but the Court of Appeal upheld the city's right to tax water lots. If the appellant had succeeded the point decided would have deprived the city of $15,000 taxes from waterfront property and would have necessitated an increase in the tax rate of four mills.

MAYOR GATHERS KNOWLEDGE OF CHINESE GAMES

Witnesses Raids by Police on Chinatown Resorts

To acquaint himself with the actual conditions existing in the gambling resorts of Chinatown, Mayor Carl Pendray was present when two of the most recent police raids were carried out. At one of these midnight excursions the police officers secured four prisoners and at the other made a haul of about sixteen captives.

The Mayor found many evidences of an elaborate spy system being operated by the gambling chiefs of Chinatown, to secure early advice of impending sallies by the constables. The raiders, wherever they went, made visitors proved of great interest to the Mayor, and hastily abandoned gaming implements were examined. The Mayor's outburst of excitement which greeted the arrival of the officers evidenced a well organized news distribution system in Chinatown.

TWO CUPS OFFERED

Ten minutes after yesterday's issue of The Times reached the street bearing the first announcement of the Oak Bay Rose Society's bid for the rose crown of the Pacific Northwest, the secretary of the society was called on the telephone by a friend who came for competition among island and rose growers. Interest in the gala affair to be held at the Crystal Palace was rapidly growing and the promoters of the Rose Show have every hope of making the exhibition one of the most beautiful and interesting. Growers of roses all over Vancouver Island are invited to get in touch with the secretary, at 1012 St. David Street.

WARRANT OUT FOR CHINESE

The appearance of the Chinese in the Point Grey police court and his demand for one week, was of a formal character.

That a warrant charging the missing household had been out for several weeks, was admitted by the Point Grey police but as to who told the information they would not state, except that the entire matter was being handled by the Point Grey police.

Just who the motorist was who notified the police that Wong Sing was wandering about on Marine Drive, was not stated by the police. They stated they did not attach much significance to this, stating that it was quite a common thing for motorists to be passing that locality at that hour of the morning.

Dr. Lin Pao Heng, former Chinese consul at Vancouver, has instructed his solicitor, J. H. Henkler, to watch the interests of the Chinese household.

CITY HALL SEETHES WITH HIDDEN STORM

Employees Protest Against Method of Awarding Salary Increases

Distribution of salary cheques among City Hall employees yesterday afternoon evoked a burst of angry comment, centring upon the fact that the president, secretary and other officers of the City Hall Employees' Association have been given salary raises by the City Council, while many employees, recommended for increases by the heads of the various departments, have been overlooked in the distribution of council largesse.

Throughout this morning the scarcely hidden storm of resentment continued to grow, and the fact that association officers had ignored instructions to formally ask the council to grade salaries was bruited abroad among the disgruntled.

TWO ALCOHOLIC DEATHS

Toronto, May 1.—Alcohol poisoning caused the death of a brother and sister, Mrs. Annie Sherier, fifty, and John Dobson, forty-six, within two hours here last evening. According to information supplied the police authorities, the couple had been drinking wood alcohol during the day, and a post-mortem performed in the morgue confirmed this statement.

Not without hope we suffer or we mourn. —Wordsworth.

1670th Anniversary

Extraordinary Values Feature the This Celebrating Our Two Hundred

Our Birthday

To-day, May 2nd, is our real birthday, for it was on this day, just 255 years ago, that the Hudson's Bay Company came into existence. On May 2nd, 1670, Prince Rupert, the first Governor of the Company, received from the hands of King Charles the Second of England, the Royal Charter of Incorporation, the original of which is to-day carefully preserved at the Hudson's Bay House, London, England.

Prompted by the highest ideals of service and with unwavering loyalty to the British Empire, the Hudson's Bay Company has continued to serve the people of Canada for 255 years.

Our Anniversary Sale now in progress is a fitting celebration of that long record of service. You are invited to participate in that celebration by sharing in the wonderful values which we have prepared—values that make it possible for you to acquire at greatly reduced prices wearables of the choicest kind—linens, fabrics and the hundred and one things necessary for real home comfort.

Victoria and District Cricket Association Has Two Games on To-morrow

Cowichan, Last Year's Champions, Play Incogs; Victoria Meets Albions

King Willow will blossom in all his glory to-morrow afternoon when the Victoria and District Cricket Association will stage its opening matches. The Wednesday Cricket League staged one match on Wednesday last but the real opening of the English Summer sport will be held to-morrow when the seniors swing their bats and the bowlers twist the ball.

Two matches are down for decision to-morrow and these will bring the champions, Cowichan, to town to show whether or not they will be capable of retaining the Virtue cup this year. Last season Cowichan got off to a poor start, but finished up in a blaze of glory, winning a long string of games, sufficient to bring them the championship.

Cowichan will play the Incogs at Mount Tominie and the other match will bring together the Albions and Victoria at the Jubilee grounds. Both games will start at 2:15 o'clock, and there will be no opening ceremonies.

FIVE C'S TO PRACTICE

With only five clubs entered this year one team will hold a bye each week. The Five C's hold the bye to-morrow, but will use it to advantage, holding a practice at Beacon Hill with the Victoria Grass Hockey Club.

The cricketers are hoping for a fine day to-morrow so that the pitches will be fairly dry and give them a chance to have some good competition.

The teams will be as follows: Incogs—F. A. Sparks (captain), J. Wenman, H. H. Allen, R. Wenman, Major Howden, A. G. Teasdale, H. P. Hewitt, G. W. Brown, G. Gray, E. G. Seiler, and B. Tye.

Victoria C.C.—A. W. Cocks (captain), Alex. Martin, Major H. R. N. Cobbert, G. C. W. Williams, R. H. A. Tomlin, A. F. Mitchell, E. Verall, B. Round, L. de S. Duke and A. Farrer.

The following are asked to turn out for the Five C's: Rev. Connely, Sutherland, Edwards, Collett, Payne, Sutt, A. Lea, Atwell, N. Wilkinson, Shilway, Beesley, Bledale, A. Slocom, E. Martin, C. Pillar, reserves, Ward and N. Jones. All other members will get a game on one side or the other.

Albions—P. Jordan (captain), E. D. Freeman, G. A. Heinekey, T. Hogarth, W. B. Knight, N. P. P. R. M. Knight, H. C. Straker, Major A. R. Ross and Sgt. Wilcox.

Master Gunner Collings of the Royal Canadian Artillery was the highest scorer of the day, with a score of 101 out of a possible 105.

The Garrison Sooko Cup will be shot for each month during the summer, the next competition to take place on May 23.

The scores of yesterday's shoot were as follows:

Two Football Games Will Be Staged; Veterans Clash with Wards

Westies Will Make Great Attempt to Lower Colors of Esquimalt

Two important games will be staged to-morrow afternoon in the First Division Football League. Both have a direct bearing on the league standing and the new champions may be determined.

The games are as follows: Esquimalt vs. Victoria Westies at Royal Athletic Park. Referee, McMillan.

North Wards vs. Veterans at Beacon Hill.

The games will start at 3 o'clock. At present the Veterans and Esquimalt are tied for the leadership with the North Wards in third position, one point behind. These three teams are the only ones that have any chance of coping the championship. Should the Veterans and Esquimalt both win their matches, then a play-off will be necessary to decide the title.

For the first time in many years the other will walk off with the championship. The Wards have a slender chance of winning out. If both Esquimalt and the Veterans are beaten the Wards will come out on top.

WESTIES IN POOR FORM

The match at the Royal Athletic Park should provide lots of excitement. The Dockers will have a Reserve team and a fully confident of victory. The Westies, who have had a bad season, hope to finish off with a win over Esquimalt.

For the first time in many years the other will walk off with the championship. The Wards have a slender chance of winning out. If both Esquimalt and the Veterans are beaten the Wards will come out on top.

Weismuller Shows Los Angeles Folks How to Cut Water

Hollywood, Cal., May 1.—Johnny Weismuller, crack Illinois swimmer, won a 100-yard dash in 53 1-2 seconds, an excellent time for a 100-yard relay, and splashed a special comedy act with Stubby Kruger, all within the confines of a tank programme, floated at the Hollywood A.C. here last night.

In the relay, the Illinois Athletic Club team headed by Weismuller, defeated the Hollywood A.C. swimmers in the handy time of 45 2-5 seconds.

Italian Wins Auto Race in California

Fresno, Cal., May 1.—Pushing his little car around the track at the rate of 104 1-2 miles an hour, Peter de Paolo yesterday won the annual Rain Day 150-mile automobile race from a field of ten crack drivers.

Tommy Milne was second, Leon Duray, third, and Bennett Hill, fourth. The others finished in the following order:

De Paolo drove a masterful race. He lingered back of the pacebakers, Duray and Milne, until the one hundred and seventh lap, when he slipped into the lead. Duray went in to make a tire change. After that the little Italian flier was never headed, although Milne, Cooper and Duray made a gallant effort to overhail him.

EBBETT'S SUCCESSOR DIES

OPENING BATTLE OF BALL LEAGUE
SET FOR MAY 13

Date Changed at Meeting; C.P.R. and Travelers Provide Opposition

New Arrangement for Selling Season Tickets

Due to the fact that the Lower Island Football Board will not let the Victoria Amateur Baseball League have the use of the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon, May 16, the baseballers at their meeting last night changed their opening date from May 16 to Wednesday, May 13. The game will start at 5 o'clock with the C.P.R. and United Commercial Travelers providing the opposition.

These two teams were picked from a hat last night and as the Travelers are new-comers keen interest will centre around the battle, as the fans will be anxious to see how the salesmen will stack up with the C.P.R. last year's champions.

The schedule will consist of twenty games and two games will be played each week. Instead of playing on Tuesday and Thursday nights, as was the case last season, the games will be staged on Monday and Wednesday evenings, commencing at 6 o'clock. The league officials were of the opinion that these two would draw better than last year's days.

As no league games will be played on Saturday this day will be open for exhibition games and the arranging of special attractions will be in the hands of the league and the team to play will be selected by the board of governors. It is, however, the intention to give every team in the league a chance to get in on the game and some fine exhibition games should be seen this season. In the matter of the gate fifty per cent will go to the club, twenty-five per cent to the league and twenty-five per cent to the grounds.

SEASON TICKETS

A new arrangement was made last night for the sale of season tickets. Each club will be given twenty-five tickets to sell at $5 each. The balance of the money will be given to the club and the remaining twenty-five per cent will go to the league. When all tickets are sold, the league will be given a total of $1,250.

YOUNGER STARS MONOPOLIZED WINTER
GOLF, ONLY ONE VETERAN WINNING OUT

By Joe Williams

Winter golf season in the South is ended and it is significant the honor roll of winners in the professional classic since the start of the season. With this one exception—the victory of MacDonald Smith in the North and South open at Fingert—the list of winners has been captured by the younger set.

B.C. Varsity Made Great Effort to Annex First Canadian Championship

Won Second Game, But Fell Short by Two Points on Round; Edmonton Win

Vancouver, May 1.—Ottawa Rideaus are the crowned champions of the Canadian basketball world, having won the title when they emerged victorious over the University of British Columbia in the two-game series by two points here last night.

The score on the round was 38 to 36. It was a narrow win for the easterners, as the Varsity squad last night took the second contest 18-16. This, however, was not enough as the Rideaus had a ten-point lead on the first game played, Tuesday night.

While the Ottawas displayed better form in the first game they had a hard time to keep up with the Varsity last night, and it was only the excellent shooting of Charbonneau that enabled them to hold the locals from coming out on top.

Varsity were somewhat weak on shooting, and they were unable to take the one game remaining before the season ends. To-morrow's soccer interest shifts from the first to the lower divisions, and centres particularly on the Third.

Varsity Back in Form

Varsity displayed that energy and dash for which its supporters pleaded in vain on Tuesday. They literally tore into the opposition. There was plenty of bodily contact, but there was no intentionally objectionable play. In their mad scramble for the ball, players of both sides bumped into one another continually, but for a match of such importance it was remarkably clean.

Six personal fouls were called against Ottawa, and five against Varsity.

In Ottawa's inspired defence of a tumbling citadel, Don Young, captain and centre, stood out as a tower of strength. He never allowed Arnold Henderson, like a basketball, to camp under his own basket in the last ten minutes, took the ball from the rebounding country, he rarely got near enough to the Varsity basket to essay a score, but his defensive work was brilliant.

For Varsity, the desired team which never saw anyone with a smoother stroke, or a sounder all-round game, and that goes for Bob Jones and Harry Vard.

There is nothing forced, or crowded or jerky about anything Turnesa does. Almost without effort he gets booming drives from the tee and with no great amount of physical energy he rams home long iron shots with an accuracy that is reminiscent of Chick Evans at his best.

Shot for shot, Turnesa is a much better golfer than Sarazen, the only other Italian who ever got anywhere in the game. But Turnesa lacks Sarazen's fighting front. He is retiring almost to the point of timidity, and this is a serious drawback in a professional competition.

At his age this makes a considerable difference. The chief features of the season are:

Oxford University vs. Cambridge, July 8 at Lords.

Gentlemen vs. Players, July 8, Eton vs. Harrow, July 10.

Gentlemen vs. Players, July 15, Champion County vs. Rest of England, September 12.

GRADS RETAIN TITLE

Edmonton, May 1.—As has been the case with most teams which have invaded Edmonton with the intention of taking the Grads' scalp away from them, the Young Women's Hockey Association basketball team made a more impressive showing in their second exhibition than they did in the opener, but it was not good enough, and last night saw the Grads retain the title.

The Easterners 17-10, winning the round 35-11. The game was a hotly-contested one, the eastern winners giving the Grads a real argument for the first two quarters.

It was not a love fest, either, for the girls on both teams resorted to some rough tactics. The visitors were the chief offenders, their total for personal fouls called was eight, while the Grads had five called.

Out of eight free chances the invaders were able to score three while Johnny Brown in the last round of a twenty-round bout here last night. Both men weighed 112 pounds ring-side.

Jack Stanley, of Deptford, knocked out "Bully" Wells, former heavyweight champion, in the third round of a fifteen-round bout.

Miss M. Wilson Wins

The eclectic competition for the Plumerie Cup of the ladies of the Victoria Golf Club resulted as follows:

"A" Class—First, Miss Marion Wilson, gross 74, net 69; second, Mrs. Parry, gross 72, net 72 1-2.

"B" Class—First, Mrs. C. Wilson, gross 82, net 72 3-4; second, Mrs. Rickaby, gross 81, net 72 1-2.

FRENCHMAN LOSES AGAIN

Boston, May 1.—Red Chapman, of Chelsea, scored decisive victory over Edouard Mascart, of France, European champion, in a ten-round bout here last night. Chapman weighed 127 and Mascart 125 pounds.

Britain Produces Girl Net Star Who
Startles London

London, May 1.—Another young star has risen in the British Lawn Tennis firmament, and will probably give some former champions something to think about as the season progresses. She is nineteen years old, Jean Reid Thomas, who recently won the covered courts women's championship at Queen's Club, the women's singles at Wimbledon Park, and with Mrs. Randolph Lycett, formerly Jean Austin, the open doubles.

She has played most of her tennis at school, but put in a few games at Wimbledon last year, and hopes to compete there again this season. She is tall and slim, and plays very gracefully as well as forcefully.

Football This Year

Third Division Has Only Games Which Will Affect Standing of Clubs

London, May 1.—With the virtual winning of the championship by Huddersfield Town on Wednesday, when they drew with Notts County and thus established a lead which cannot be overtaken in the one game remaining before the season ends, to-morrow's soccer interest shifts from the first to the lower divisions, and centres particularly on the Third.

On the Southern section of the Third Division all eyes are riveted on the game scheduled for Swansea Town, where the locals meet Exeter City in the game that will decide whether Swansea are to stay in the lower string or move up into the Second Division.

DERBY COUNTY FAILS

With regard to the Second Division, nothing remains but for both Leicester and Manchester United to move up into the First Division for next season. Derby County will not be able to stack up a heavy enough score against Blackpool to win promotion, and will consequently have to stay where they are for another year at least.

Either Crystal Palace or Oldham will accompany Coventry City into the Third Division. They meet in the final game.

The question whether West Bromwich Albion or Bolton Wanderers will finish as runners-up to Huddersfield Town is interesting. They meet on Saturday. Bolton will have to win if they want to wind up in second place.

The leader's closing game is with Liverpool, to be played at Huddersfield.

Soccer games yesterday resulted as follows:

ENGLISH LEAGUE—SECOND DIVISION

Southampton 2; Bradford City 0.

THIRD DIVISION—SOUTHERN SECTION

Swansea 1; Reading 0.

"The Circular Staircase"

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

"I have a message for you, Miss Innes," he said, rising at last. "Mrs. Armstrong asked me to thank you for your kindness to Louise, whose whim, occurring at the time it did, put her to great inconvenience. I also asked me to appeal to your natural sympathy for her, at this time, and to ask you if you will not reconsider your decision about the house. Sunnyside is her home; she loves it dearly, and just now she wishes to retire here for quiet and peace."

"She must have had a change of heart," I said, ungraciously enough. "Louise told me her mother despised the place. Besides, this is no place for quiet and peace just now. Anyhow, doctor, while I don't care to force an issue, I shall certainly remain here, for a time at least."

"My lease is for six months. I shall stay until some explanation is found for certain things. My own family is implicated now, and I shall do everything to clear the mystery of Arnold Armstrong's murder."

The doctor stood looking down, slapping his gloves thoughtfully against the palm of a well-looking after hand.

"You say there have been intruders in the house," he asked. "You are sure of that, Miss Innes?"

"Certain."

"In what part?"

"In the east wing."

"Can you tell me when these intrusions occurred, and what the purpose seemed to be? Was it robbery?"

"No," I said decidedly. "As to time, once on Friday night a week ago, again the following night, when Arnold Armstrong was murdered, and again last Friday night."

The doctor looked serious. "He seemed to be debating some question in his mind, and to reach a decision."

"Miss Innes," he said, "I am in a peculiar position: I understand your attitude, of course; but do you think you are wise? Ever since you have come here there have been hostile demonstrations against you and your family. I'm not a croaker, but—take a warning. Leave before anything occurs that will cause you a lifelong regret."

"I am willing to take the responsibility," I said coldly.

"I think he gave me up then as a poor proposition. He asked to be shown where Arnold Armstrong's body had been found, and I took him there. He scrutinized the whole place carefully, examining the stairs and the lock. When he had taken formal farewell I was confident of one thing. Doctor Walker would do anything to get me away from Sunnyside."

CHAPTER XXI

It was Monday evening when we found the body of poor old Thomas. Monday night had been uneventful, things were quiet at the house and the peculiar circumstances of the old man's death had been carefully kept from the servants. Rosie took charge of the dining-room and pantry, in the absence of a butler, and, except for the warning of the Casanova doctor, everything breathed of peace. Affairs at the Traders' Bank were progressing slowly. The failure had hit the small stockholders very hard, the minister of the Little Methodist chapel in Casanova, among them. He had received a legacy from an uncle a few shares of stock in the Traders' Bank, and now his joy was turned to bitterness, he had to sacrifice everything he had in the world, and his feeling against Paul Armstrong, dead, as he was, must have been bitter in the extreme. He was asked to officiate at the simple services when the dead banker's body was interred in Casanova churchyard, but the good man pro-videntially took cold, and a substitute was called in.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

A few days after the services he called to see me. A kind-faced little man, in a very bad frock-coat and a tie, I think he was uncertain as to my connection with the Armstrong family, and dubious whether I considered Mr. Armstrong's taking away a matter for condolence or congratulation. He was not long in doubt.

"I liked the little man. He had known Thomas well, and had promised to officiate at the services in the rickety African Zion Church. He told me more of himself than he knew, and before he left, I astonished him—and myself, I admit—by promising a new carpet for his church. He was much affected, and I gathered that he had yearned over his ragged chapel as a mother over a half-clothed child."

"You are laying up treasure, Miss Innes," he said brokenly, "where neither moth nor rust corrupt, nor thieves break through and steal."

"It is certainly a safer place than Sunnyside," I admitted. And the thought of the carpet permitted him to smile. He stood just inside the doorway, looking from the luxury of the house to the beauty of the view. "The rich ought to be good," he said wistfully. "They have so much that is beautiful, and beauty is ennobling. And yet—while I ought to say nothing but good of the dead—Mr. Armstrong saw nothing of this fair prospect. To him these trees and lawns were not the work of God. They were property, at so much an acre. He loved money, Miss Innes."

He offered up everything to his gold. Not power, not ambition, was his fetish: it was money. Then he dropped his puppet manner, and, turning to me with an engaging smile, "In spite of all this luxury," he said, "the country people here have a saying that Mr. Paul Armstrong could sit on a dollar and see all around it. Unlike the Summer people, he gave neither to the poor nor to the church. He loved money for its own sake."

"And there are no pockets in shrouds!" I said cynically.

"I sent him home in the car, with a bunch of hothouse roses for his wife, and he was quite overwhelmed. As for me, I had a generous glow that was cheap at the price of a church carpet. I received less gratification—and less gratitude—when I presented the new silver communion set to St. Barnabas."

I had a great many things to think about in those days. I made out a list of questions and possible answers, but I seemed only to be working around in a circle. I always ended where I began. The list was something like this:

Who had entered the house the night before the murder?

Thomas claimed it was Mr. Bailey, whom he had seen on the foot-path, and who owned the pearl cuff-link.

Why did Arnold Armstrong come back after he had left the house the night he was killed?

No answer. Was it on the mission Louise had mentioned?

Who admitted him?

Gertrude said she had locked the east entry. There was no key on the dead man or in the door. He must have been admitted from within.

Who had been locked in the clothes chute?

Some one familiar with the house, evidently. Only two people missing from the household, Gertrude and Rosie. Rosie had been at the lodge. Therefore—but was it Gertrude? Might it not have been the mysterious intruder again?

Who had accosted Rosie on the drive?

Again—perhaps the nightly visitor. It seemed more likely some one who suspected a secret at the lodge. Was Louise under surveillance?

Who had passed Louise on the circular staircase?

Could it have been Thomas? The key to the east entry made this a possibility. But why was he there, if it were indeed he?

Who made the hole in the trunk-room wall?

It was not vandalism. It had been done quietly, and with deliberate purpose. If I had only known how to read the purpose of that gaping aperture what I might have saved in anxiety and mental strain!

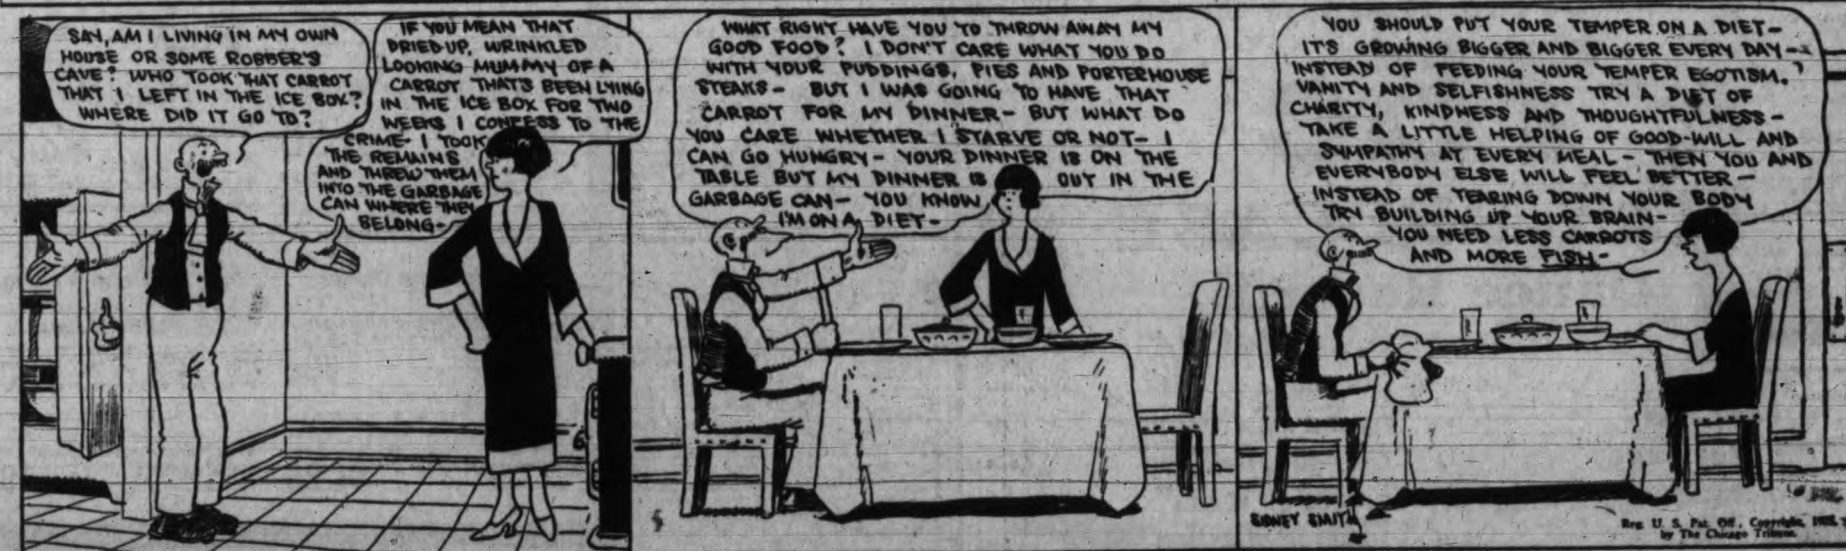

What was the meaning of the subtle change in Gertrude?

Was Jack Bailey an accomplice or a victim in the looting of the Traders' Bank?

What all-powerful reason made Louise determine to marry Doctor Walker?

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bismarck Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarck Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort, try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Vancouver, May 1.—Ted Hollywood, recently convicted here for robbery with violence, will have another charge to face should he emerge from the prison gates after serving the sentence imposed in the present instance.

At the time of his arrest in Bellingham in connection with the local holdup, the police were informed he was suspected of complicity in a $28-

Missouri.

A warrant is held for his arrest

many years a journalist well known throughout Canada, dropped dead last night. He had made a speech at the annual reunion of Dominion

IMMIGRATION WORK

Meighen depicted the increase in the expenditure of the colonization department of the C.N.R. This department, he said, duplicated the efforts of the Immigration Department. In all the increase in expenditure, 100 fewer immigrants had been received for Canada last year than in the year before.

As for the immigration policy of the Government, Mr. Meighen said by actual count the Government announced nine different policies in three years.

Former King challenged the figures Mr. Meighen was quoting.

RAIL DIRECTORS

Referring to the directorate of the Canadian Railways, Mr. Meighen repeated that "this road's operations twice the size of the Titanic and the States Steel Corporation."

He asserted that corporation was controlled by directors of the type some of those placed on the C.N.R. by the Government.

DIGS FOR GOLD AREA

IS TO BE EXPLOITED

Concession Given by Soviet to London Corporation Covers 1,500,000 Acres

Moscow, May 1.—The contract closed by the Soviet Government with the Lena Gold Fields Limited, a London corporation, yesterday, covers the exploitation of 1,500,000 acres of gold, silver, copper and lead-bearing areas in the districts of Lena, Altai and Sissert, in Siberia, and is the most important concession ever granted by the Soviet Union.

It is understood important New York bank and mining interests will participate in the operations of the company when its plans are completed.

If the contract runs to the end of its term of fifty years it will involve a turnover of many hundreds of millions of dollars.

The Lena Gold Fields Limited embraces also the interests of the Russian Mining Corporation Limited, Altai; Mines Limited, and Sissert Company, which with the Lena Gold Fields Company operate the mines covered by the present concession before the revolution.

Big New Building For Salvation Army

Buenos Aires, May 1.—The foundation of a building intended to be the headquarters of the Salvation Army in South America has been laid in Buenos Aires. It is being erected as a memorial to General Booth, founder of the Army, and will consist of five floors, with sufficient space for administration work and for a training college for Salvation Army recruits. A printing workshop and accommodations for officers and their families are among the features of the new building which it is estimated will cost about $60,000.

The Salvation Army last year provided beds for nearly 500,000 persons and furnished 740,000 meals in Buenos Aires.
